Nov. 23 Ten Years Ago Date of Mine Disaster, Coleman

Nov. 23 marked the tenth year since the explosion in No. 4 Level of McGillivray mine, which occurred at 8.10 a.m., snuffing out the lives of ten men and imperiling the lives of 18 others who fortunately escaped to safety.

The following is an extract from the report carried in The Journal of Nov. 25, 1926.

"Twenty-eight men checked into the mine, Monday at midnight, and everything progressed normally until a few minutes after five on Tuesday morning, when as suddenly as a bolt from the blue, an explosion took place at the lowest point in the mine, No. 4 level, where six men were at work. Twenty-two other employees working in No. 1, 2 and 3 levels felt the force of the explosion and immediately sought safety in flight. Eighteen of these fought their way through gas and afterwards, which quickly ascended from the scene of the explosion in No. 4, and were successful in reaching the surface after a hard struggle with many nerve racking experiences. The other four men on these levels together with the six in No. 4, were trapped in their working places and failed to get out.

Messrs Geo. Kellock, general manager, D. Davidson, superintendent, and other mine officials were at the scene of the disaster shortly after the explosion occurred, and together with Mine Inspector Moses Johnson of Blairmore, and Mine Rescue Supt. Ed. Royle, of Hillcrest, immediately made arrangements for rescue parties to enter the mine. The first party equipped with gas masks and oxygen tanks penetrated down to No. 3 level and brought the first body, that of Robert Fairfull, to the main entry, where Dr. Borden worked with the pulmotor for several hours endeavoring to resuscitate him, but all efforts proved unavailing. The rescue party again explored No. 3 level and came upon two other bodies, Alex. Morris and David Meek, but were unable to bring them to the surface as a second explosion occurred at that time, partially who for the past year has conducted classes in violin in the Pass towns, came to Canada in 1912 and among the musical organizations with which he has been connected either as conductor or as a member are the Capitol theatre orchestra leader in Winnipeg and Edmonton, first violin player in Edmonton Symphony Orchestra and at present a member of the Calgary Symphony Orchestra, and in Europe he travelled with the famous Castellano Italian Opera Co. In early life he was a student of the Aeur Violin School in Petrograd.

Prior to coming to Canada he was bandmaster in the 97th Graf Sheremetova Infantry Regiment of the Russian Imperial Army. Leaving Russia in 1912, he came to Canada, and in 1915 he went to England as a member of the 100th Winnipeg Grenadiers Band which on their return played a number of concert engagements in the United States and also aided in recruiting.

He states that he has found the pupils of the Pass towns in his classes a very fine type of young people ambitious to excel in music.

closing the entry, and they were forced to abandon any further work of this nature. Three further explosions occurred during the morning and smoke was issuing from the mine indicating that one or more fires had started in the workings. On advice of the mine inspector no one was again allowed to venture into the mine. The fans were shut down with the object of smothering the fire shortly after the noon hour, as it was considered hopeless that any of those in the mine remained alive, and nothing could be done in the way of exploring the workings until the fires had been extinguished, and the danger of further explosions or "bumps" was over.

Those killed were: William White, fire boss; Tom Young, single; George Johnston, leaving wife and young daughter; Alex. Leitch, (wife and four children); Robert Fairfull, (wife and daughter Peggy) Alex. Morris, single; David Meek, (wife and young daughter) W. Pitik, single; G. Ukralintz and Mike Yurik, both married with families.

Surgery of the Seas

Dr. Adam N. Beattie, surgeon of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Japan, and his ship's nurse, Miss Margaret Grant Allan, who are shown here, performed two delicate operations during the ship's round trip to the Far East, via Honolulu, just completed in Vancouver. On the outward trip, between Honolulu and Yokohama, the liner's huge turbines were stalled for nearly an hour while Dr. Beattie removed a ruptured duodenal ulcer from a Chinese passenger. On the homeward trip, between Hong Kong and Shanghai, the London, Ont. doctor's skill was again called into play when a Chinese saloon steward was stricken with acute appendicitis. Both patients are recovering well, the physician reported. Dr. Beattie, former house physician at Vancouver's St. Paul's hospital, and graduate of University of Western Ontario's medical school in London, Ont., stated that the Empress of Japan's splendidly equipped operating room made the operations little different in practice from any performed in large hospitals. His assistant, Miss Allan, is a graduate of St. Paul's hospital, Saskatoon. She has been in the Empress of Japan for the past three and a half years and previously was in the Empress of Russia. Dr. Beattie first went to sea in 1923 aboard the Canadian-Australasian liner "Niagara" out of Vancouver.

Brothers Arrested on Serious Charge

Failed to Report Running Down Boy Who Subsequently Died in Lethbridge; Arrested at Crow's Nest.

The car which fatally injured a young man of 21 years at Coal-dale on Wednesday afternoon, and proceeded without reporting to the nearest police station, was stopped by the police at the inter-provincial boundary at Crow's Nest about 11.30 p.m., and the driver, Roy Renfrew, age about 45 years, was arrested and other occupants of the car held as material witnesses. The driver's brother and two women, it is reported, were passengers.

Though not confirmed, they were reported as journeying to the State of Washington to attend a relative's funeral. A piece of the lamp bracket of a Buick car was found at the scene of the accident. Prompt police work enabled the car to be stopped at the inter-provincial boundary.

Renfrew will face a serious charge, possibly manslaughter, for no attempt was made, according to press despatches, to give aid or to stop and investigate.

A special despatch from Coal-dale states Henry De Ver, aged 21, died in hospital here at 8.30 p.m., Wednesday, after being struck by a car at 5.45 p.m., one-quarter of a mile north of Coal-dale, as he was walking along the road with his brother, Vernard. The car continued without stopping, police were told.

Stores are taking on an extra gay appearance with window displays, and toys on display are interesting the younger ones. Enterprising merchants are making preparations for a heavy pre-Christmas business and already there has been considerable buying. Webster's store is making a specialty of party dresses for ladies and girls, while for the children they have a profusion of toys.

Pattinson's and the Coleman Hardware Co.'s stores have many useful articles for presents in household articles of all kinds.

The jewelry stores are also interesting places to visit for those contemplating purchasing presents.

For ingredients for the Christmas pudding, the grocery stores are offering a fine line of high grade products.

Between now and Christmas it will be interesting to read the announcements of advertisers in The Journal for there will be a good guide to Christmas shopping in the advertisements.

Canadian Legion Notes

The Canadian Legion's primary object is to take care of disabled war veterans and to try and provide employment for those out of work. The men who served their country during the war deserve all the help possible and the Dominion command of the Legion spends time and money quite heavily for this purpose. Preference should be given ex-service men by employers, provided they are qualified for the work desired. They were told they would be given the preference, but sad to relate many of these promises have been forgotten.

Russia Has Refused To Grant Japanese Fishing Concessions

Moscow.—A blunt warning to Japan that Soviet Russia will not cooperate further in granting "vital" Japanese fishing concessions until the reported Japanese-German military pact is cancelled, was sent to the Japanese embassy here Saturday night.

The 11th hour development came just as Japanese diplomats were preparing to go to the Soviet foreign office to sign the fishing agreement. The new pact, fruit of a year's patient negotiations, would have extended for eight years the Japanese right to fish in Soviet waters off eastern Siberia.

The great bulk of Japan's sea food is obtained from these waters and Japanese officials repeatedly have said the concession was vital to Japanese interests.

In notifying the Japanese embassy of Russia's refusal to renew the agreement, expiring Dec. 31, the Soviet foreign office emphasized the "bad atmosphere" created by the asserted German-Japanese military alliance.

Japan was advised Russia would be unable to sign the renewal "until the situation is cleared up."

Diplomats viewed the Soviet manoeuvre as designed to bring heavy pressure on Japan to back out of her proposed secret agreement with Germany. They said the chances of reaching a Soviet-Japanese pact of non-aggression, heralded as forthcoming early in 1937, now were dim.

High Soviet sources pronounced the German-Japanese alliance a "progressive but not final action directed in preparation for a world war."

Speaking with the authority of the Kremlin, the newspaper Izvestia declared such an agreement would increase "the Japanese menace to the United States and Great Britain as well as a German menace against all Europe."

"The truth is that the alliance is not a plot against the U.S.S.R. alone but against the world."

Power Contract

Judgment Handed Down On Ontario's Power Commission Act.

Toronto.—A majority judgment of the Ontario appeal court held sections of Ontario's Power Commission Act of 1935 to be unconstitutional. The legislature in allowing an appeal by the Ottawa Valley Power Co., Ltd., whose contracts with the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission were cancelled under the legislation.

By a 3-2 decision, the court decided the power commission had a right to bring against the power commission an action seeking a declaration that contracts between the company and commission were valid, binding and still in force.

Would Sell Coal To Canada.

London.—The South Wales trade recovery and expansion committee seeks to enlist Canada's aid in returning that area to prosperity. The committee urges that with a view to trade recovery in the Welsh mining valleys the Canadian government should be requested to guarantee to take a minimum of 1,000,000 tons of anthracite from Wales annually.

Says No Country Is Willing To Carry On A War

London.—No country to-day is prepared either to carry out a war or to take responsibility for it, Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal, declared to the house of lords.

"The government are not by any means blind to the dangers in the world," said Lord Halifax, "but those which arise from the clash of sharply conflicting ideologies in Europe."

"But by applying the best judgment His Majesty's government can, by putting the matter on its lowest grounds of self interest, they do not believe any country to-day is prepared—much less more anxious—to take responsibility of letting loose war that may spread through Europe and beyond it."

"So far as we are concerned, we mean what we say. We will be friendly with all nations and we believe that other nations sincerely desire to establish friendly relations with ourselves. The government do not undertake either the duty or the urgency of the task before them and they are applying themselves to it with energy."

The upper chamber's debate on defence and foreign policy concluded with Lord Halifax's speech.

A four-power European defence pact was urged by Lord Rennell, former ambassador to Rome, who said Britain, France, Germany and Italy should join to fight "autonomous forces" both in Europe and in the Far East.

"Obviously in the major issues, the logic of things as they are makes it imperative that France and ourselves should stand together," said Lord Rennell. "Freedom of the channel is indispensable to both of us, and we could not ourselves begin with any indifference a menace to the security of our nearest neighbour."

Broadcasting Survey

Production Officials To Meet At Conference At Ottawa.

Ottawa.—Two surveys of the broadcasting situation announced recently by L. W. Brockington, K.C., chairman of the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, are now under way. It was made known by the corporation. These surveys relate to broadcast coverage in Canada and to the program service.

Gladstone Murray, general manager of the corporation, has summoned program production officials at the corporation's various production points across Canada to meet at headquarters in Ottawa, Nov. 28, in a conference on program building. The purpose of his conference is to bring about improvement in the corporation's program service.

Calling of this conference is a step in connection with the survey of the broadcasting service and is in line with Mr. Brockington's announcement. The surveys will be carried on in other ways, including personal inspection by the general manager of the situation in various parts of the country later on.

Alberta Forest Fires

100,000 Acres Of Ranchland Swept By Flames.

Calgary.—Forest flames, which spread across 100,000 acres of ranchlands in the brush-covered foothills of the Bow river valley, were brought under control. Heavy rain halted the fires. Two hundred fire fighters stood guard.

No loss of life was reported; all ranchers and their families escaped injury but there was a loss of thousands of dollars in property and livestock.

Fanned by a gale which at times reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour, the fires in the Cochrane district, 25 miles west of here, swept across a dozen large ranches. Seven ranch homes were destroyed, along with stables and corrals. At other ranches homes escaped but outbuildings were destroyed, livestock lost and thousands of tons of winter feed left a smoking mass.

New Bank Notes

Portrait Of King Edward On New Issue For Next Year.

Ottawa.—On the new bilingual notes of the Bank of Canada the portrait of King Edward VIII. will be the only royal portrait it was learned. On the present notes portraits of the late King George V., Queen Mary, King Edward as Prince of Wales, the Princess Royal, the Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of York and the Duke of Kent appear on notes of different denominations.

The new bank notes will be out about August next year, and a portrait of His Majesty will appear on all denominations except the $1,000 note, which will carry a portrait of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the $100 note on which Sir John A. Macdonald's likeness will appear. Sir John's picture is now on the $500 note, which will be discontinued.

Royal Air Force Members

London.—Nearly 11,000 men and boys joined the Royal Air Force in 1935 compared with 2,700 in 1934, says a report. Of 20,000 candidates, 11,000 were found fit for general service. Deaths through injuries in 1935 totalled 128, compared with 58 in 1934. But 51 of the former were due to the earthquake in Quetta, India.

King Edward Sends Message

Urges People Of South Wales Not To Lose Heart.

London.—In a message to the lords-tenant of Glamorganshire and Monmouthshire the king urged the people of the distressed areas of South Wales "not to lose heart" and "not to be discouraged by their troubles are not forgotten."

The king said he had been greatly touched by the warmth of the welcome accorded him wherever he went. His first feeling, he declared, was one of admiration for the spirit in which the people of South Wales were facing the ordeal of prolonged unemployment.

He added he had been encouraged to see "the fine efforts, both governmental and voluntary, being made to help them until some revival of industrial activity might bring back prosperity."

"Meantime, I urge them not to lose heart but rest assured their troubles are not forgotten," His Majesty concluded.

Submarine Is Sunk

Eight Lives Lost When German U-boat Collides With Vessel.

Lubeck, Germany.—The German U-boat No. 18 collided with another vessel in Lubeck Bay and went down with eight men aboard.

The navy department, which withheld news of the tragedy for more than 12 hours, said 12 other members of the U-boat crew were rescued, but gave out no details.

The navy department's announcement said hope had been abandoned for the eight men carried down by the submarine. Everything possible had been done to reach them the announcement said.

The submarine collided with another ship during a practice run and went down within a few minutes.

May Be Necessary To Amend The Canadian Constitution

To Preserve Peace

Plan To Bring U.S., Germany And Japan Into League

Leeds.—Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, declared a cardinal point of British foreign policy was to bring the United States, Germany and Japan into the League of Nations.

Chamberlain told a political rally that "the league must be made stronger than this is the only way it can be done. We've got to realize that the league with those great nations—the United States, Germany and Japan—standing outside, and Italy aloof, is no longer capable of preserving the peace of the world."

"We ought to try to make it easier for them to come back by showing that the league is not just a clamp to hold down everything as it is to the end of time," he continued, "but that it does contain within itself the means whereby legitimate grievances arising out of the existing situation can be ventilated and discussed, and can, if possible, be removed by peaceful means."

"If these grievances exist and cannot be removed by peaceful means, then we must expect they will be removed by force."

Chamberlain cited the security pact contemplated for western Europe as an argument for, rather than against, the government's rearmament program.

"I should like," he said, "to see parts of this kind established in every danger spot in Europe, but it is necessary to observe a guaranty given even by such a powerful nation as ours is not going to be protection to anybody and not a real help to peace unless it is known we are strong enough to make our intervention effective should the need arise."

"To the task of trying to bring our defence up to a condition where we can fulfil guarantees of that kind this government is devoting itself with all the energy at its command."

Battle Against Communism

Italy Observes Day Of Ignominy And Iniquity

Rome.—Italy observed a day of "ignominy and iniquity," the first anniversary of the imposition of sanctions, while its leaders reviewed the country's relations with the rest of Europe.

The Fascist grand council will meet for the first time this fall after the anniversary of the anniversary. Among the subjects well-informed circles expected this supreme policy-making body to consider were:

The battle against Communism, with particular reference to the situation in Spain; the state of Italy's military preparedness; Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano's negotiations with Germany, Austria and Hungary, especially concerning central Europe; relations with Great Britain, and projects for the economic development of Ethiopia.

Population Increase

Quebec.—Population of Quebec City is 147,639, according to figures made public by the city's hygiene service. This is an increase of 17,045 over the census of 1931.

For Spanish Priests

Ottawa.—With the approval of Archbishop J. G. Forbes a fund has been opened here for the assistance of Spanish priests who have lost their belongings in the civil war. Headquarters of the fund are at the University of Ottawa.

This point developed at the hearing of a Canadian constitutional appeal before the judicial committee of the privy council. The privy council has been asked to determine whether the Weekly Day of Rest in Industrial Undertakings Act, the Minimum Wages Act and the Limitation of Hours of Work Act are ultra vires of the parliament of Canada. The measures were enacted in 1935 under the Bennett government.

J. B. McNair, attorney-general of New Brunswick, contended that the legislation under review was all outside the power of the Dominion which certainly could not appropriate powers exclusively provincial by ratifying a labor convention. Since it dealt with industrial questions, it invaded the legislative area reserved for the provinces.

Lord MacMillan, member of the privy council, said the situation now reached was critical for Canada. He contended this legislation was made necessary by an international arrangement arising out of the Versailles treaty.

Lord MacMillan contended that the treaty-making power had been questioned. He suggested there was a difference between her treaty-making power and her capacity for performance of treaties by means of legislation. Treaty-making power might need to be extended to meet new times and a new status.

Lord Atkin, another privy councillor, observed that Canada had the authority of the crown behind her for making treaties and that a treaty could be made on the advice of His Majesty's ministers in Canada. But whether she could perform a treaty where legislation was needed was a question.

Lord MacMillan said the bulk of Canada's international engagements would not require legislation, but times were changing and some engagements would need legislation. A new conception of economic led governments to enter into engagements of a kind they never contemplated when the constitution was framed. At the cost of abrogating what had once been regarded as fundamental rights the constitution might need to be adjusted to fit a new economic outlook.

J. W. deB. Farris, for British Columbia, urged that the legislation was inapplicable under section 132 of the British North America Act, obligations under international labor conventions did not form Canada's obligations as part of the British Empire. For this legislation the consent of the provinces should have been sought. British Columbia herself had passed one of these convention acts with the proviso that she would enforce it only when other provinces did so.

For Spanish Priests

Ottawa.—With the approval of Archbishop J. G. Forbes a fund has been opened here for the assistance of Spanish priests who have lost their belongings in the civil war. Headquarters of the fund are at the University of Ottawa.

Prepared To Ensure Freedom For Ships In Spanish Waters

London.—Great Britain prepared to ensure freedom of passage for her ships in Spanish waters while Foreign Secretary Eden told the House of Commons he considered there were other governments more blameworthy than those of Italy and Germany for violations of the hands-off-Spain pact.

Aroused by opposition bills, Eden said: "As far as non-intervention is concerned I can say categorically that I think there are other governments more to blame than those of Italy and Germany."

His statement, which some members took to be a veiled threat at Russia, threw the house into uproar. Cheers from the government benches mingled with cries of "Shame!" "Shame!" from the Labor M.P.s.

Eden ignored subsequent heckling, and avoided further definition of the "other governments."

The three questions which occupied most of the parliamentary debate were the status of British shipping in the Mediterranean in the face of General Francisco Franco's reported warning of a blockade; the future of the non-intervention committee; and possible joint action by Britain and France to maintain freedom of the seas.

Officially the British government announced it had not received details of the reported Spanish insurgent blockade of ports, but informed sources expected the government to issue a warning the force would be used, if necessary, to protect British merchantmen.

YOUR SIZE

By JANE DEE

ACCURACY of measurement plays a very important part in the shopping of Mail Order customers. Few people realize the necessity of measuring EVERY TIME they order. Often they may require a different size to that which fitted them only six months previously.

Perhaps you gained weight away on your holidays. Perhaps you lost weight and need a smaller size. If daughter swam every day this summer her shoulders will probably have become broader and therefore she will require a larger size. All these things must be taken into consideration when you shop by mail.

When you sit down to write your order, have the tape measure beside you so that you will be able to measure yourself. Better still, have somebody else measure you.

If you have had difficulty securing a garment to fit properly, when you order, kindly send in your full measurements such as width across shoulders, waistband, sleeve length and dress length. Then we will be able to advise you upon the correct size according to your measurements.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

IT'S a well-known fact that usually, if you want anything done, it is the busy man who is more likely to do it than he who has not a great deal to occupy his time. A reminder of this was impressed on the writer's mind in perusing the minute book of a local church. Covering the last ten years, one name appeared more frequently than any other in the record, mostly as secretary, but also in other offices. This man's time is occupied more fully than any other in town.

ALSO another thought occurred; that it is the same few who usually carry on. There appears to be a lack of young recruits to take up the work of the older people. Is it because they are not encouraged to assume responsibility, or because it has no attractions in the way of amusement? It not only applies to church work, but to other local activities. Some men act on several organizations in an executive capacity, and can it be wondered that at times they throw up their hands, and intimate plainly that it is time someone else took a hand?

SO MANY will enjoy the benefits that accrue from the hard work and activity in community enterprises of the workers and those who undertake the responsibility of carrying on, but care little else. And because they have little or no responsibility, they often criticize instead of help. More boosters are needed, more helpers and less talkers. We often compare a town to a garden or a grain field. The more you cultivate it and put something into it, the greater are the returns. It is the busy men and those active in community affairs who keep the town on the map, while the drones just sit, and sit, and sit, and talk. Let's have more of the type who feel that they owe something to the town in which they live instead of trying to make all they can out of it without putting something back by their own personal efforts.

IT WAS such an ideal week-end from the point of weather conditions that one felt thankful for living in the mountains. Such a break came as a most welcome relief after the discomforting and nerve-racking winds of the previous week. Life in the big hills has its compensations, and the walking is good so that the enjoyment is available to all. It does not require a luxurious limousine to enjoy the pleasure that Nature provides, and outdoor exercise is good for the body and the soul.

BREAKING FAITH is the title of an editorial which we re-produce, because it is of interest to many small investors who believing in thrift have saved money through paying life insurance premiums. It proceeds:

"Clear thinking is difficult at any time. That is why Franklin D. Roosevelt went on a fishing trip as soon after the election as possible. As Arthur Brisbane, noted columnist said, 'he wanted to fish, and also to think.'"

"Most of us would do well if we did more thinking. Unless all the points of a problem are considered, the solution will be only partially right, or wrong. We learned that in school long ago.

"Debts are a problem in the West, have been for some time. Alberta attempted to solve that problem. Now, life insurance policyholders in Alberta are starting to think. They are having their memories refreshed with the fact that thrifty citizens are the real owners of bonds that finance governments—Federal, provincial and municipal. It is their hard-earned savings that are invested in the mortgages that build homes, develop farms and industries of the Dominion.

"Investing their savings, life insurance policyholders have built up an insurance estate of over six billion dollars for themselves and their dependents. To protect this huge estate, these policyholders invested two billion dollars in the best securities Canada had to offer: Federal, provincial and municipal bonds, farm mortgages and industrial securities. Alberta as a province holds millions of these dollars, borrowed from the insurance policyholders in exchange for the province's bond, and millions more are invested within the boundaries of the province by trust, loan, mortgage and banking institutions.

"Life insurance, on behalf of its policyholders who loaned money and accepted in good faith the promise of the borrower to pay, says that the borrower should pay if he is able, and if he is not, he should negotiate for adjustment—not repudiate. For life insurance says that cancellation and repudiation, regardless of ability to pay, is breaking faith with those Albertans as well as residents of other provinces, who were able, fortunately, to save, and thus to invest."

THE matter of collecting licenses from those who sell services or goods in Coleman while having their places of business in other towns needs some looking into. The town is losing revenue and also allowing competition with established business for which outsiders pay no tax. What are by-laws for?

Reid-Pattinson Wedding

A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pattinson on Saturday at 5 p.m., when their only daughter, Jean, became the bride of Mr. Harold Reid, youngest son of Mr. Arthur Reid, of Coleman. Rev. A. E. Larke of Blairmore officiated.

A large white wedding bell, white and pink streamers and smilax were the decorative features, the background being an effective setting of white carnations and large chrysanthemums.

The bride was dressed in a floor length gown of pale pink silk net, cut with swing skirt, pointed collar, and tying at the neck. The sleeves, of elbow length, were banded with a double rouching of the net. She wore a corsage bouquet of deep pink roses.

Miss Rene Duncan, of Blairmore, the bride's attendant, wore a sheer crepe floor length gown of blue. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses.

Mr. Robert Pattinson, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

Mrs. Pattinson, mother of the bride, wore wine velvet, with corsage of white carnations.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, white carnations, large chrysanthemums and smilax. A three-tiered wedding cake centred the supper table. Immediately following the ceremony a delicious supper was served after which the bride and groom left for Lethbridge.

Only immediate relatives were present.

As a Life Insurance Policyholder

You Share in the Ownership of These Valuable Assets

Government Bonds    First Mortgages    Municipal Bonds
Industrial Securities    Public Utility Bonds

YOUR savings in Life Insurance—which help to form the Assets of the company in which you are insured—not only protect you and your family but also make you a part owner of high-grade securities.

For example—as a Life Insurance policyholder, you share in the ownership of Government and Municipal Bonds. These bonds provide for the construction of highways, railways, canals, schools, water and sewage systems, and other important public enterprises.

You likewise have a definite financial interest in Canadian industries, and in Canadian homes and farms.

The Life Insurance companies, which your enterprise and thrift have built up, acting on behalf of yourself and 3,500,000 other policyholders, invest the Assets you have entrusted to them. In making these investments, they exercise the utmost care to secure safety with a satisfactory yield.

Of the combined Assets in the Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada, the major part is invested in Government and Municipal bonds and debentures. Large amounts are also invested in first mortgages on carefully selected city, town and farm properties, and in loans to policyholders.

You can take satisfaction in the fact that Life Insurance companies in Canada have faithfully discharged their obligations. Even in periods of greatest financial stress, every obligation guaranteed by their policies has been fulfilled.

Free Trial of Vick Products For Better Control of Colds Offered by Local Druggists

Free Packages Contain Trial Size Vicks Vapo-rub and Vicks VapoRub, with Details of Plan that Cut Sickness from Colds in Half in Clinic Tests

In your own home this winter, wouldn't you like to see sickness from colds cut more than half? That was just one of the results achieved by thousands of people in clinic tests of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds—a practical home guide to greater freedom from colds.

The free trial packages now offered by your druggist introduce you to Vicks Plan and the products that make it possible: Vicks Vapo-rub and Vicks VapoRub.

To Help Prevent Many Colds

Vicks Vapo-rub is the scientific aid in preventing colds. Vicks Chemists spent more than nine years and $250,000 in research, experiments, and tests before perfecting this exclusive Vicks formula. Vicks Vapo-rub is specially designed for the nose and upper throat, where 3 out of 4 colds start. The moment you apply it—a few drops up each nostril—Vicks Vapo-rub spreads swiftly through this trouble zone, and gently stimulates Nature's defenses.

Used at that first sneeze, sniffle or any sign of nasal irritation—Nature's usual warning that a cold threatens—Vicks Vapo-rub helps to prevent many colds and to throw off head colds in the very beginning. And when neglected irritation has led to a stuffed-up nose or a miserable head-cold, Vicks Vapo-rub brings comforting relief. It reduces swollen membranes, clears clogging mucus, makes every breath clear and cool again.

You'll find Vicks Vapo-rub wonderfully easy and pleasant to use, at home and at work.

To Help End a Cold Quicker

When a cold strikes without warning or gets by even the best precautions—as some colds always will—Vicks VapoRub helps end it quicker. The simple way is to rub Vicks VapoRub on the throat, chest, and back for three minutes. Almost before you finish rubbing, Vicks VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once: (1) It acts directly through the skin like a poultice.

or plaster; (2) Its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 15 minutes—a mile—direct to the irritated air-passages.

This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm, relieves irritation, helps break congestion. While the patient relaxes into comfortable sleep, Vicks VapoRub keeps working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Cough Drops, Too

For the throat that is dry and harsh, or irritated by coughing, Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—throat-soothing ingredients of Vicks VapoRub in pleasant candy form—provide quick, convenient relief.

Get Your Free Package Today

Don't forget—your druggist has only limited supply of free trial packages containing these Vicks products. Get yours today, before they're all gone.

And be sure to look in your free package for full details of Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds and cut sickness from colds more than half in clinic tests.

What you can do for your family may be less or more—but doesn't this fine record make it well worth trying?

Princess Elizabeth Lucky

Stories Told by King Edward (color Geography Lessons)

Although Princess Elizabeth is not going to school, there will be a certain reorganization of her home studies. Two tutors will give her regular lessons in the classics and in modern history, a subject that the Duke of York considers all important, especially in the case of a little girl who is now second in succession to the Throne. The King, who is particularly fond of his elder niece, is following King George's example by taking a deep personal interest in her studies, says the News of the World. He often adds thrilling color to her geography lessons—a subject which is not one of her favorites—by telling her fascinating stories of his own experiences on his great journeys through the Empire and the world.

Milk As Banquet Beverage

Was Very Popular At Port Arthur Club Dinner

At a very recent dinner banquet to Hon. C. D. Howe in Port Arthur milk was placed on the tables, a full glass at each place and large pitchers with an extra supply. It was all consumed rapidly, everyone—that is almost everyone, the exceptions being a few who were raised on beer and enthused about it as if it were some strange, costly and rare beverage. Why with its popularity and its availability, its food value, and its low cost, milk is not supplied or demanded more generally remains a mystery.—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

To Guard Alpine Climbers

Italy is the first country in Europe, perhaps in the world, to install radio-phonetic communications between lonely Alpine huts and the nearest towns in the valleys below. In order to make Alpine climbing a safer sport. Fostered by the Italian Alpine committee, the plan provides for installations in more than 40 of the principal chalets in the Italian Alps. In time more than 200 installations will be made.

Minister: And in closing, brethren, let us pray. I will ask Deacon Brown to lead.

Deacon Brown (awakening from a nap): Hain't my lead, I deat.

Life Insurance In Canada

How much more of a stake in life insurance Canadians have than the people of every other country except the United States has just been published. Though the United Kingdom has about four times the Dominion's population, its people carry only about 70 per cent. more insurance than ours. The amount in force in the Dominion is nearly twice as much as in Germany, four times what it is in Australia and five times what it is in France.—Edmonton Journal.

Tracing a family tree is an expensive business; it will cost as much as $150 to go back two or three hundred years, working on one line alone.

Crochet Smart Slip-ons Lengthwise

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

PATTERN 5676

"What beautiful gloves! And you made them yourself?" Mother, sister or friend is sure to be flattered by so personal a gift. They're so simple to do, too. Here's the secret—crochet each glove lengthwise, whip together the two identical pieces with contrasting yarn (in itself a decoration), and include gussets for that important wrist flare. You'll find these gloves will give the wear of an extra pair, made in either yarn or string. To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 115 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

Nipigon Map Sheet

Lake Nipigon The Mecca For Anglers From All Over The Continent

The greater part of the Lake Nipigon district of "square-tailed"—red-trout fame, is shown on a new Department of the Interior map which covers the southern part of Lake Nipigon, and includes the Nipigon, Black Sturgeon, and Jackfish River areas, also an extensive network of lakes, rivers, and streams to the west of Lake Nipigon.

The mapped region is part of an undeveloped area and has only the small portion comprised in six townships subdivided into farms. Located north of Port Arthur and Port William, it is an ideal sportsman's country reached by the Canadian National Railways line between Port Arthur and Longlac, with Orient Bay as the chief starting point, and by the Canadian Pacific Railway's transcontinental line through Nipigon on Lake Superior. A section of the Trans-Canada Highway is shown on the map as under construction. It skirts the southeastern part of the region and when completed will make the trip through the area by automobile. A provincial highway from Port Arthur and Port William already extends to the village of Nipigon, and to Cameron Falls.

To anglers all over the continent the word "Nipigon" suggests trout, and the district holds the world record, with specimens weighing 12½ pounds, while four-pound to six-pound fish are quite common. Both railway systems award trophies each year for trout caught within Nipigon waters. In Lake Nipigon, and in the Black Sturgeon, Nipigon, and adjacent rivers, small-mouth bass, white-fish, pickerel, and pike are also abundant.

The region is a big game country in which moose and deer are plentiful, but hunting is prohibited within the provincial game preserve to the east of the lake. To tourists other than sportsmen, the area holds many attractions scenically, for at points on Lake Nipigon the shore-line rises to magnificent heights, while the long arms of the lake with its occasional sandy beaches are of interest to the canoeist or motor-boater enthusiast. Many of the streams are placid, but there are quite turbulent.

There are deposits of chromite about 100 miles from the north-east edge of the area shown in the map. Other localities where prospecting or mining operations are in progress include the Garden of the Lake Nipigon and Longlac. Lake Nipigon, 65 miles long and 40 miles wide, with numerous islands, some large and some small, is surrounded on three sides by the Nipigon Forest Reserve and on the east side by the Nipigon-Omanan Crown Game Preserve. It has a shore-line of approximately 800 miles and with its 1,600 square miles is the largest lake wholly within Ontario. It drains into Lake Superior by Nipigon river on which hydro-electric power is developed at Cameron Falls and Alexander power stations.

The Nipigon map may be obtained in the regular map sheet form at 25 cents. A pocket-sized folder edition containing an index to place names on the map may be procured for 35 cents, and copies backed with linen for extensive use are available at 60 cents. Applications should be addressed to the Survey General, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or copies may be obtained at many of the local bookstores in the cities and towns of Ontario.

Silk Has Many Uses

Surgeons use silk for sewing up wounds; mountain climbers for their belayers; aviators for their parachutes and for the suspension of their harness; fishermen for their strongest lines, and artillerymen as powder casing for great cannon.

With camels, a sheep farmer has crossed the vast Simpson Desert of Australia to survey hitherto unexplored state boundaries.

The Chinese make gelatin from the dried fins of sharks.

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS WIPE OUT TUBERCULOSIS

By unrelenting efforts in its fight against Tuberculosis, the Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League has succeeded in reducing the death rate from this disease to one-half of what it was fifteen years ago, and by this great achievement, Saskatchewan now has the distinction of having the lowest death rate of any state or province in the world.

Yet, despite the encouraging progress that has been made, tuberculosis is still one of the most serious disease problems we have to face. Every third death in the age group between 15 and 45 years from acute infectious disease is due to Tuberculosis.

Therefore, there must be no let-up in the fight against Tuberculosis. Every citizen can do his or her part by buying Christmas Seals.

Educational and preventive work are very important in the fight against Tuberculosis. The money raised by the sale of Christmas Seals is used exclusively for these purposes and made possible the examination of 54,573 persons in the past eight years. Last year 14,403 persons were examined.

The cost of caring for the 750 patients in the three Sanatoria of this province is met by taxation. Funds for educational and preventive work are provided by voluntary contributions. Early diagnosis of suspected cases is of vital importance. Clinics are held monthly at seven points in the province, where free examination is available to all. Last year the proportion of early cases admitted to the Sanatoria was 43 per cent., compared with ten per cent. fifteen years ago. The education of the public as to the symptoms and dangers of Tuberculosis has brought about this result.

The majority of cases discovered in the early stages of the disease recover; their stay in the sanatorium is short, and the cost to themselves and the taxpayer correspondingly reduced.

People must learn that Tuberculosis in the early stages is just as curable as pneumonia. In the later stages it is one of the most deadly diseases there are. The public must be made intelligently Tuberculosis-conscious. The public must learn something about the symptoms. First, loss of strength, loss of weight, fever and night sweats, and other more serious symptoms.

Because people know more about the symptoms of Tuberculosis today than they did fifteen years ago, the infection rate among children and young adults has been reduced to one-quarter of what it was then. The fear and apprehension which Tuberculosis once inspired has largely been diminished, because people today know that it is not hereditary, and that if discovered and treated in the early stages, it is 80 per cent. curable.

Four thousand people are living in Saskatchewan today who have been treated in our Sanatoria, and two-thirds of these have returned to their usual occupations.

What more convincing argument than this could be advanced for support of the Christmas Seal Sale in order that educational and preventive work may be continued and extended? We can, if we will, make Tuberculosis a comparatively rare disease.

One way in which everyone may play a part at this season of the year is to buy and use Christmas Seals. The money you spend on such seals is used to strengthen the forces which protect you and your family against a very real and powerful enemy. To buy seals makes you a participant in the campaign, lining you up with the forces of health and happiness against disease and misery.

Declare Reports That Law Courts Will Be Abolished Is False

Official denial was made that Premier Mussolini intends to abolish law courts and substitute corporative committees. It was said often, in the law courts will not be changed.

Displeasure was expressed in official circles that lawyers in the United States should have interpreted the reported possibility of such a change as indicating freedom of trial was being impaired in Italy.

It was pointed out citizens have and will continue to have rights before the courts equivalent to those of other countries.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

NOVEMBER 29

CHRISTIAN BROTHERHOOD

Golden Text: There can be neither bond nor free . . . for ye all are one man in Christ Jesus. Galatians 3:28.

Lesson: Philomen.

Devotional reading: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Explanation And Comments

The Salvation of the Letter, verses 1-3. Paul writes that Timothy joins him, "a prisoner of Christ Jesus." In sending greeting to Philomen, their beloved fellow-worker, and to Apphia and Archippus, Philomen's wife and son, and to the church that meets in his house, "Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ."

Gratitude for Philomen's Faith and Love and Service, verses 4-7. Philomen was a man of means distinguished by his gifts to charity. He was zealous in spreading the gospel, and his house was the meeting-place of a group of Colossian Christians.

Intercession for Onesimus, verses 8-21. "Wherefore," since Philomen has proved himself good in so many particulars, especially in his love and care of the followers of Christ, as Paul has just written, Paul will expect from him this further proof of his goodness, that he will forgive Onesimus and welcome him kindly on his return.

"Paul insisted that in Christ there could not be bond and free; and so he did away, at least between Christians, with the servile relation of property, as owner." In the personal contacts of employer and employee, sincere Christians have found it possible to embody the Spirit of Christ in their positions.

They have lived together in these relations in mutual respect, confidence and affection. Among us no Christian employer feels justified in asking for an attitude of deferential servility—that is recognized as both un-Christian and un-Christian (Henry Sloane Coffin).

If, then, you count me as a partner, receive him as you would me. "Imagine Paul arriving at Colossae and knocking at Philomen's door. What rejoicings there would be through the whole household, alike in master and slaves! What delight in all hearts, on all faces! Just such a welcome he now asks for the wondering sheep that has come back to the fold. His request is not only for pardon and complete restoration, but also for the welcome of a brother in the household of faith (Goidel).

If he us no Christian, owes you anything, charge it to me. I solemnly promise that I will repay him. And I do not regret that you owe me your very self—your life in Christ. Yes, brother, let me rejoice in the Lord because of him, refresh my heart in Christ. I write that to you because I have had faith in you and know that you will do even more than I have requested.

We do not know what was the result of this plea for Onesimus, but we think Philomen could do no less than forgive him, receive him kindly, and send him back laden with gifts to Paul to remain with him and serve him.

Operated By Radio

Typewriters for Use On Air Liners
Have Been Perfected

Typewriters operated solely by radio impulses have been perfected and will soon be in operation on air-liners, according to Daniel C. Roper, U.S. secretary of commerce.

The machines will enable pilots to have up-to-the-minute weather reports and enable passengers to have the latest market and news reviews while in the air.

The new radio typewriters per-fectured by the air commerce bureau technicians and private manufacturers are capable of 60 words a minute.

The Washington-Nashville airway will be the first line to have the new machines in operation. The government will finance the installation making the machines available only to pilots for weather reports.

The largest sum of "conscience money" ever received by the British treasury, $50,000, has been acknowledged by the board of inland revenue.

Thou Shalt Not Love

— A NOVEL BY —

CHAPTER X.—Continued

There came the sound of sibilant gasps from those nearest. The shuffle of feet stopped for the instant. Starr and Michael, too, were stricken as still as though turned to stone, their arms about each other ready to swing into the dance. In the momentary hush it seemed that everyone else stood still, too, listening. But Stephanie Dale was neither hushed nor silent. In a dramatic, bitter moment she was hurling names at Starr. The kind of names of which only a jealous woman can think.

The whole gay party, their dancing feet stopped for the moment, stood aghast. Almost anything went in their mad set—but not scenes like this.

Stephanie was too angry to care. She had a great deal stored up to say and she was saying it all. Michael's face went from dark red to white. There was pleading in his eyes as he said:

"Stephanie, please!"

She flared out at him, then. "I won't keep quiet! Why should I? I'm beginning to doubt whether your interest in this 'Play-girl'—she made the name anathema, while her eyes shot venom—"is purely professional, as you insist! How do I know you haven't been her lover, in common with half a dozen other men about town? Probably half the men here this minute? But you can't fault her in my face! If you dance with her, Michael, everything is finished between you and me!"

It was a merciless ultimatum. At Stephanie's savage onslaught Starr felt all the life suddenly dashed from her body. Now, unaccountably, her greatest resentment was for Michael. . . . Though why should she care? He deserved—well, about anything. But surely not this public embarrassment. As she recovered herself slightly she turned to look at Michael.

She saw the battle he was waging with himself. He could not afford to quarrel with the girl he wanted to

PAINS ALL OVER HIS BODY

Kruschen Made Him Feel a New Man

Read the experience of this man who had rheumatism so badly that at times he was prevented from working.

"About 10 months ago," he writes, "I suffered terribly with rheumatism and neuritis. The pains were all over my body and some days I could not even get up from bed to go to work. A friend visited me and suggested that I should try Kruschen Salts. I did so, the result being that the pains seemed to gradually disappear. I have been going to work ever since without a break, thanks to Kruschen Salts, and I feel a new man."—A.R. Rheumatic conditions are frequent by the result of an excess of uric acid in the body. Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are notable for their work in dissolving uric acid. Other ingredients assist Nature to expel the dissolved acid from the system.

marry, to whom it was generally accepted that he was engaged, and yet how many men would have accepted a rebuke like that in public? It was plain he meant to pay no attention to Stephanie, or anything she said. He held on to Starr defiantly.

Starr wriggled free from his arms. She drew away.

He saw Michael the embarrassment of making a fool of himself in this one out. It's a little warm for dancing, anyway!"

She walked across the floor alone, toward the long, open windows that led to the high-up balcony that looked down over the city. More than half an hour later she was sitting, purring on in the dreamy wait, marveling at her courage. This was a new phase on the character of "Play-Girl," and there was a touch of reluctant admiration and sympathy even in the women's eyes.

This balcony at the Mayfair was high up over New York City. The balconies outside its windows looked down so that one could imagine themselves on the crest of a hill, with the lights below twinkling like a sea of stars. Starr looked down on them, but somehow they were blurred and wavy through a mist that welled to her eyes in spite of herself.

In the distance was caught, a glimpse of the glory of the wide river, moon-drenched, turning the craft idling along it into silver boats. But in the light of day they would be dirty hulks, most of them, with no magic of moonlight to touch them. They would not be silver boats, they would be—That was how Starr felt—laminated.

She stood by the balcony rail looking down at the lights and at the broad, wide expanse of the black and silver river. Music, muted a little, came from within. The dance was going on as though nothing had happened.

Starr was as surprised to find she was trembling as at the mist that blurred her vision. In spite of her brave front, things like this left their mark. They were bound to. She had not had sufficient experience in life in stealing herself.

She did not know how long she stood there. It made so little difference. Then the figure of a man suddenly appeared, just a dark blur against the wall of the tall building. That would be Lance, of course; he was never very far away. She was surprised that he had not already followed her out.

She moved slightly, glancing from the corner of her eyes. No, not Lance. The figure was too broad and athletic for Lance. Starr's heart gave a queer leap. Michael!

"Starr!" In the misty darkness the girl's lips twined. A shilant little laugh tinkled.

"Be careful, Michael-Hassan. I'm poison ivy!"

His voice came swiftly as he took another eager step nearer.

"I want to apologize for Stephanie, Starr. She had no right to say the things she did."

Starr said dully: "It doesn't matter; does it? She only said what everybody else thinks! If I remember, what you've rather intimidated yourself."

He spoke her name again, and in his tone was a world of hurt.

"Starr!"

"Yes, Michael."

Somewhat it was easier to talk to him when the darkness obscured his arrogant young features. Perhaps it was easier for him, too, not to see the painted mask of "Play-Girl." All he saw was a tragic, white, indistinct smudge that was her face, and a larger white smudge, her dress, backed against the rail. His voice was strained.

"I want to apologize for myself, too, Starr. No man has the right to do to any woman, no matter what his preoccupied notions of her, what I did to you. I put you in an impossible position, and then blamed you because you lost your head. It's all my fault; whatever has happened tonight or any other time, is my fault. I didn't realize it until tonight, when I heard Stephanie call you those names, but I knew then, in a terrible moment, Starr, what I had done to you."

A strange tightness caught Starr Ellison's throat. Her barriers were down. She could have matched the supercilious Michael with mocking word for mocking word; she had no weapons with which to fight this new, humble Michael.

He had come closer now, was reaching for her hands with the big strong ones she knew so well. He was trying to look nearer into her face and the pools of her eyes that were hidden in the night blackness. He said impetuously:

"I've been a mad fool, Starr! I began by being attracted that day I saw you on the street, pouring out your passionate little heart in just a few words that meant volumes to me. I thought I understood, then. And when I saw you for the third time in one day, it looked as if Fate was pointing you out to me, as the girl I had been looking for who could be molded like putty in my own hands, for my own not-too-worthwhile purpose, making you do exactly what I wanted you to do—for sweet publicity. We get so hardened in this game, as well as in the newspaper game. You know they say that a man will betray his own grandmother for the sake of a 'story.' That was all I had in mind a story—that that should be sensational enough to help me line my own fat pockets. I thought I had you sized up—I was terribly wrong. . . . Then you got beyond my control. As might have been expected, with a girl of your mentality. You were a schoolboy's little humbrel chorus girl. Which I should have known in the first place. I was so fatuously pleased with myself that I was even congratulating myself that I had found a woman with brains as well as beauty."

He paused, and in that momentary pause the silence was so still, the music from inside a mere softly purring obligato. His voice had a choke, as he went on.

Conquest Of The North

In Canada We Are Unlocking The Treasure Houses Of Nature

The Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, paid a high tribute to the mining industry of Canada at a dinner at the Chateau Laurier celebrating the production of the first ounce of refined radium in Canada, valued at $850,000. Speaking of the slow and patient development of the mining by geological observations of the officers of the mines branch and research on metallurgical problems in government laboratories, among other things, Lord Tweedsmuir said:

"On the 14th of July in the year 1789, the Bastille fell in Paris and with its fall began the French revolution. On the same day, Alexander MacKenzie, the explorer, set up a post on Whale Island off the Arctic coast. That day in the old world inaugurated several decades of war and a carnival of windy theories of which we still feel the blast. Here in Canada, on the other hand, was inaugurated the slow and patient conquest of the north."

"In recent years in the old world, we have seen a similar epoch of confusion and unsettlement, the strife of rival dogmas and the eternal rumor of war. In Canada these same years have witnessed a very different kind of movement, the steady pacific conquest of the wilds, the practical business of unlocking the treasure house of nature. Which of the two fates is the happier? We have good cause to be grateful for our good fortune. It has kept us out of the maelstrom in which so much of the world has been flung, and permitted us to continue our fruitful and peaceful toil."

The largest globe in the world is being made for next year's Paris exposition. It will show the earth's seas and continents on an exact scale of one-to-1,000,000 and will be lighted by an artificial sun.

When King Edward makes ceremonial drives to outer parts of central London around Coronation day, special seats will be allocated to children.

Coffee plants are in flower for one day only.

Local News

H. Wilton-Clark, manager of Mohawk Bituminous mines, returned Monday after a business visit to Calgary.

Jack Nash is in hospital suffering from a severely sprained back, sustained while at his employment at International mine on Saturday.

Envoy A. Frayn of Lethbridge will have charge of the services of the Salvation army over the week-end. All are invited to the hall.

Prize winners at the Rebekah whist drive held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Tuesday evening were Mrs. A. Caroe, Mrs. J. Emmerson, Harry Harris and Mrs. W. Jenkins. 12 tables were in play.

With the cold snap in October, Alex. Easton and Bill Jenkins, lessees of the rink, made ready a good foundation of ice, expecting to get an early start. It was labor in vain, for the mild weather since has even dried up the sawdust in the rink.

Premier Aberhart informs city council they cannot reduce the interest on the bonds of the Alberta government, yet he reduced it on the bonds the government held against the city. Mayor Davidson comments on this action as "preposterous."

An accident occurred at McInnes' Hill, east of Michel, on Sunday when a Chevrolet sedan driven by James Anderson overturned, causing damage estimated at $75. Luckily the occupants escaped without a scratch. A blow-out to a front tire was said to be the cause of the mishap.

"Life insurance companies and savings banks have been called Great Corporations of Little People. Through them the average man has become a capitalist, to his own strength and contentment and vastly to the strength of the nation." Social Credit legislation aims to hit those who have tried to help themselves by providing protection for themselves and families.

WHITE LUNCH

Support the only Cafe in the Crows Nest Pass employing all white help. Fraternal Society gatherings catered for.

Though several Social Credit members of the legislature, including Rev. Roy Taylor, stated at public meetings dividends would be paid by Christmas, no assurance to that effect has been given by the premier. The latter states that the "yellow press" is hoodwinking the public. The shoe appears to be on the other foot, for despite increased taxation and increased and additional license fees, and a cutting down of interest which the government will pay on borrowed money, there has been no way yet discovered by which dividends will be paid. If there has been, it is still a profound secret.

For a really good printing job, The Journal office can satisfy even the most exacting. Expert workmen of long years of experience assure you of printing of quality, on good stock. You'll have no need to apologize for cheap looking stationery if printed at this office. Besides, you are helping to employ local printers, who pay local taxes and do their trading in Coleman. Those who solicit printing from Coleman people and do not live in Coleman pay no license fee or taxes of any kind, but "chisel" on locally employed workers. Remember this when some "slick guy" solicits your printing. This type doesn't buy a square meal in town, nor give a care about local enterprise.
